| My idea is to create architectures of the soul that reflect and provoke an approach from an inner world to outside. It's transparency and openings allow light to be a significant part, making visible intermediate spaces. 6 slabs of marble measuring 1 m² , in different width, originating from a block of stone are analyzed and opened up . They are horizontally integrated in two rectangular vertical pillars, each one measuring 285cm x 60cm x 40cm. The 6 horizontal, solid yang lines of the slabs remind 乾-Creation, a hexagram from the ancient Book of Changes : I-Ching. Together they are transformed into a new context, people can enter, walk through , visualizing a view UP and EXPANDING into universe space through a microcosm of cell like structures. | |
